TWO CENTS

WOULD DEPORT ALIENS WHO DODGED SERVICE IN THE WAR

Drastic Bill is Presented by Representative Kelly in Congress

WOULD REQUIRE CITIZENSHIP

Representative M. Clyde Kelly of Braddock, on Tuesday introduced a bill in the House at Washington which would deport 210,000 aliens who dodged military service during the war.

These men, according to Mr. Kelly, announced their intention of becoming citizens of the United States, but later withdrew such intentions so as to evade service. Mr. Kelly is willing to take them at their word and would deport them forthwith. His bill also provides that aliens coming to these shores in future must within a specified time, declare their intention of becoming citizens, in English language, study our institutions and register once a year. If they fail to comply with the proposed law they will be deported.

In speaking of this measure said that it was officially reported that 210,000 aliens had declared their intentions of becoming citizens of the United States and who renounced their intention in order to escape military duty. According to his statement these alien slackers deliberately refused to come to the defense of the land of their birth or the land of their adoption. They held their jobs, drew wartime pay and flourished while red-blooded American lads went into the war.

It is further declared that these 210,000 men of draft age declared they were alien outsiders. Mr. Kelly is in favor of taking them at their word and accepting their choice. They should be sent outside the United States at once, he declares. They deserve no benefits from the country they refuse to serve.

The bill provides for the immediate deportation of these alien slackers. According to Mr. Kelly the measure will lift out bodily 210,000 duty dodgers and send them back to the lands from whence they came, never to return to the United States.

He says it is time to stop making America a collection of nationalities, each with its own ideas, standards, habits of thought, customs and speech.

PROCLAMATION

Information having been received by the borough authorities that workmen on the way to various mills have been interfered with, both on the street and the street cars.

Notice is hereby given to whom it may concern that all such interference must cease forthwith, and any one apprehended for so offending will be arrested and dealt with according to law.

STRIKERS ARRESTED

MEN STOPPED IN CHARLEROI

Sixteen strikers were arrested in Monessen this morning charged with picketing, the State police, making the arrest. It is claimed the strikers were acting under advice given by "Mother" Jones at a mass meeting held in Charleroi Tuesday afternoon. It is said she advised the men to go about in larger parties, 60 or 70 if necessary, in order to prevent men from returning to work. However, the State Police were on hand and arrested the men and placed them in the lock-up. This appeared to break up the attempt at least for the day.

The Steel Products company is reported as working in every department with an increased force of men. More are expected to return to work before the end of the week.

It is reported that a number of men on the way to Monessen to return to work were held up this morning at Twelfth street. Four men were in the party, three of whom continued on their way regardless of the demands made by the strikers, while one man turned back and went home. A number of men were also reported as being turned back from the bridge.

This condition of affairs on the Washington county side of the river is being closely watched by the mill officials, and unless there is a radical improvement steps will be taken, it is said, to prevent any further interference with men on their way to the mills.

Milk Sells at 12 Cents Per Quart in Harrisburg; 18 Here

A traveling man from Harrisburg in Charleroi on Tuesday on a business mission, referring to the local milk situation as presented by the Mail, said that in his town milk was delivered to consumers at 12 cents per quart. Moreover this milk must undergo a rigid inspection by the city board, and measure up to certain requirements, otherwise it is rejected. Moreover the milk is not purchased from the milk men, but from customers, usually milk stations and restaurants, and taken before the board for analysis. If it is deficient in any manner the dealer is notified, while the dairyman hears from the officials in no uncertain tones.

This man was much surprised when he learned that in Charleroi consumers were compelled to pay such a price as 18 cents per quart for de-

REPORT ON PASTOR WAS MISLEADING STOLEN CAR WAS FOUND IN CHARLEROI

Members of the Charleroi Methodist Episcopal church were somewhat confused on Tuesday when the announcements of the assignment of pastors for the new year was made by the conference at Uniontown.

As published in all of the papers it was said that Rev. R. B. Mansell had been assigned to Charleroi to take the place of Mr. Allison, who, according to reports, was to go to West Newton. During the day other reports prevailed and it was not until afternoon when Rev. Mr. Allison had returned home, that it was ascertained that Rev. E. H. Greenlee of Aspinwall had been sent to Charleroi, that Mr. Allison was to go to Bridgeville, while the Rev. Mansell was in charge of the church in West Newton. It is expected that the new pastor will be in Charleroi in time to take charge of the services on Sunday next.

Chief Albright and Officer Murphy this morning arrested Ray Dill and Robert Auld, Jr., both of Waynesburg, on advice from the police department, of Waynesburg, charged with taking an automobile. Word of the disappearance of a Buick car bearing license number 180,663 from Waynesburg was received by the local officers on Monday, and they have been looking for the car since that time. This morning the car was discovered standing in front of the Hotel Walfred, and upon inquiry the police ascertained the young men had arrived there at 8:00 o'clock this morning and secured lodging. They were taken in custody and placed in the borough lockup to await the arrival of the sheriff who was in the car and the arrest of the two young men.

NAZIMOVA TO BE SEEN IN "THE BRAT" AT COYLE

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Coyle theatre Nazimova will be presented in "The Brat." It is the story of the ennobling influences of love. Its heroine and dominating character is a wife of the city's slums who has never known any name save "the brat." A series of events that serve to "push her down" and then when she is almost a human wreck she is rescued by an author who takes her to his home in order to study her nature. Surrounded by love and kindness she is eventually uplifted but not until she is brought through many heartbreaking sacrifices.

Day Shift Only At Work and Operations are Satisfactory

JUSTICES IMPOSE HEAVY FINES

According to official count there were 1025 men at work in the mills at Donora on Tuesday. The mills are running day shifts only, and at about 25 per cent capacity. The officials expect this number to be increased from day to day, as the former employees, and especially the English speaking men, see that the corporation is determined to run the various plants. No unusual efforts are being made to increase the working force in any of the plants, the officials taking the men back as they report for work. It was expected that quite a number of additional men would report this morning, as there is sufficient protection to all those who desire to return to work.

The borough officials as well as the justices of the peace of the town are bearing down a little harder on those who attempt to make trouble, or who assail employees with such verbal epithets as "Scab."

On Tuesday Peter Yanokovitch was arrested for making threats against some colored men. He threatened to shoot them and to burn their houses. He was taken before Justice Ford, who imposed a fine of $50 and costs, in lieu of which he went to jail. Mike Debroshi was another offender, having called a number of employees "Scab." He was also taken before Justice Ford, who imposed a fine of $25 and costs, but as the prisoner did not have the money he was taken to jail. Both of these men are alien.

Joe Lecomovich a young man, also applied the epithet to some men who are now at work. He was arrested and taken before Justice Ford, who imposed a fine of $10 and costs. He was also taken to jail because he could not pay the fine imposed.

Good order prevails in and around the town, there appearing to be no disposition on the part of any one to start trouble. The calling of names and threats made by some of the striking employees have constituted about the only breaches of the peace in the steel town within the past few days.

The big entering classes at the colleges show the tremendous zeal for culture that was developed when it was demonstrated that college graduates make more money than others.

The owner of an apple orchard is tremendously impressed this year with the insatiable public demand for his fruit for making vinegar.

BAR TO SELF-GOVERNMENT

In India Idol Worship of Brahmanical Hierarchy Would Revive, Writer Asserts.

The danger, when it comes to self-government for India, and every Anglo-Indian recognizes it, is that we may put back into power the Brahmanical hierarchy which, at all the times of priestcraft, by organizing aboriginal worship and blood sacrifices, by astrology and "intrudes," has held the lowlier races of India enslaved, body and soul, these three thousand years.

Even the English-speaking masters of art in Calcutta university, after their graduation, go back to temples reeking with the blood of bulls and goats, and chant Vedic mantras before hideous idols. Exactly so far does their study of Mill and Huxley emancipate them. And this, in flat defiance of the fact that all the best of their sacred books sternly condemn this evil ambition and its instruments, black superstition and idolatry, the things against which the Buddha made his heroic protest. But long centuries ago, the dark Brahmanical reaction drove the Buddha's followers out of India.

Nevertheless the British trustees for the welfare of India continue to do all things in their power to advance the natives of that many-colored congeries of peoples along the path of real liberty.—Charles Johnston, in the North American Review.

HE ROSE TO THE OCCASION

Teacher Insisted That Norman Should Write Poetry, and Result Was Remarkable Effusion.

The sophomore class at N— high school had a genius for a teacher. She could write poetry and every Friday required her pupils to do the same. Norman could play baseball, but poetry was outside his ken. Still the teacher insisted that he do it, and finally issued as her ultimatum that he either write it or she would mark him failure on his monthly report. A faint mark meant that the teacher would lose one of his best players, so Norman tried to write a poem. His attempt was so wretched that his teacher tried sarcasm.

"You are a genius," she told him. "Now see if you can't write a poem about yourself and your wonderful abilities."

Later she found Norman's effort in his memorandum book, but she has kept the finding a secret. For he had written:

Lives of school teachers all remind us, That they'd better get a man. And, perhaps, leave behind them Fewer advantages to them.

Devoted Nurse's Death.

The story of a nurse's devotion to France was told by Maj. Gen. Cuthbert Wallace at a meeting convened by the London national council of women to consider shorter hours for hospital staffs.

"There was," said the general, "a certain hospital in France where the German bombers were coming over night after night. Some people were restless when they knew that bombs may be dropped on them. The wounded men, although he was practically indifferent to shell fire, and a hospital very often gets shelled with this horrible fear, this inability to keep still. There was a certain nurse who was looking after a ward in which there was a man who was badly hurt and could not get out of the ward. She had made off during the evening, when these bombers came over. She knew of this man and went back to her ward. She was not to be seen. She sat at this man's bed and sang to him. A bomb fell. That woman was killed, but the man was left. The name of this heroic nurse was not revealed."

Not Particular.

The local fire ladders recently went on a hunting trip.

Hearing a shot, one yelled to the other:

"Get something."

"Get something," the other replied.

"What is it?"

"A pump."

The other, approaching, laughed derisively.

"Huh," he said, "that isn't a pump; it's a screw-driver."

"Oh, well," said the first hunter, "what's the difference? When I get a bird, I eat its meat. I ain't particular what kind of a voice it's got."—London Tit-Bits.

May Be Big Gold Field.

That free gold of untold quantities would be found in the gravel of the channel where once flowed the Rogue river has been the belief of Oregon miners for more than half a century. And so it happened that the owner of the old Waldo mine near Grant's Pass the other day made the greatest strike ever made in this section when he turned gravel for the first time. His holdings consist of 4200 acres and it is believed that almost every foot of them lie over the old river bed and that nearly all of it is rich in pay dirt.

Danced to Death.

It was a Polish wedding and there were quite a number of guests. Each one that danced with the bride was to pay $1. They had been dancing and celebrating all evening and it was early the next morning when the bride had danced about forty-five times, therefore making about $45. She was determined she would make $50 before she quit and had almost succeeded when she fell to the floor dead.

Sensible View of Health.

If a sound mind and rational habits do so much to keep the body sound, and if a sound body can do so much for the mind, it is a fairer deal for all of us than it has sometimes seemed. Of course, it is not so easy as it sounds to put fear and worry, harrowing love affairs and destructive emotions, hatred and envy—out of mind. But if this is done we must do it ourselves. Doctors cannot do it for us, and realization that the matter of health is largely in our own hands must contribute to the wiser ordering of life.—Chicago Daily News.

Golden Moment Is Now.

Shake a barrel of apples and the sound ones will come to the top. And in this great industrial shake-up the man of right heart and keen mind will find his chance. He who has not succeeded as well as he would have liked has now less cause or time than ever for the cavil of discontent or resistance to the advance of industrial peace and progress. Now is his golden moment to apply heart and brain and muscle to the best opportunity at hand.—Charles Grant Miller, in the Christian Herald.

Do Authors Enjoy Writing?

In an editorial on the financial rewards of the late Amelia E. Barr the New York World sets forth that slender love of writing always produces the best results. "We object," says the Sun. "A canvass of writers who achieve the best results, our guess is, would show that nine-tenths of them don't love to write. There is a good deal of bunk about it, and it is hard to get honest answers; many writers are afraid to say they don't enjoy the writing job."

Anyway, He Found It.

It was on October 12 I happened to meet my neighbor's little girl on the street during school hours. I asked her how it happened that she was not at school, and she looked at me with some surprise and answered: "Why, don't you know? It's Columbus day today." Then, with seeming pity for me in my ignorance, she added: "Columbus discovered America. It was last year, I think."—Chicago Tribune.

Could Drink Water.

If among the innumerable beverages of colonial times a man could find nothing to quench his thirst, he must have been hard to satisfy. The Pilgrim fathers were much distressed because they were reduced to drinking water when they came to the New World. But Benjamin of Salem proudly told his contemporaries: "I can and oftentimes do drink New England water very well."

Triumphed Over Misfortune.

The famous French artist, Gustave Dore, was born and reared in the shadow of Strasbourg cathedral, says Mrs. Betham-Edwards in "The Heart of the Vosges." At the age of eight years he broke his right arm, but he came, as he by magic, ambidextrous. As he lay in bed he cheerfully drew pictures all day long with his left hand.

Deep Degradation.

"I haven't seen Pilkington for a week," "No, he hasn't been out of the house since his accident." "Was he seriously injured?" "No, but he feels the disgrace deeply." "Disgrace?" "Yes. After living in the heart of the city all his life he went to the country one day last week and was run over by a milk cart."

Quite Sure.

Patricia came tumbling down a flight of stairs, and her mother, fairly frightened, inquired if she was hurt. When Patricia regained her breath she loudly proclaimed her feelings: "I'm killed, mother! I know I'm killed!"

RESTORE CASINO AT OSTEND

Famous Pleasure Resort, Devastated by Huns, Is Being Rapidly Put in Good Condition.

After nearly five years of war Ostend is resuming ordinary life, as far as possible under present conditions, with the reopening of the famous casino, says the Post Mail Gazette.

Less than twelve weeks ago, says a flatter telegram, the great saloons of the casino were a scene of devastation and wanton destruction. Although occupying so prominent a position on the sea front, the buildings themselves escaped the constant bombardment from sea and air that has transformed so many of the beautiful hotels and villas along the Digue into heaps of rubble, and the use of nine tons of glass has repaired all the damage thus occasioned, but the Germans showed their usual thoroughness in gutting and defiling the saloons themselves.

Every stick of furniture was taken away, beautiful tapestries were slashed and torn by German bayonets and every mirror in the halls was removed, together with the copper candelabra in the saloons and the beautiful copper staircase.

Not content with robbery, the Germans defiled the rooms in nameless ways and, in fact, left the whole place in a state that would have shamed any animal inhabiting a stable. But since February a miracle has been wrought and but for the fact that some of the more valuable fittings are at present only temporarily replaced by imitation, there will be no evidence of the war, so far as the casino is concerned, when it reopens soon.

RATHER OVERDID THE THING

Friends of Candidate for Government Appointment Laid the Flattery on a Bit Thick.

John L. McNabb, attorney, tells this one on himself: "When I was a candidate for United States district attorney in this district several years ago, my friends procured documents and testimonials without number to substantiate the desired appointment, and a book full of this eulogistic matter was forwarded to President Taft. An outsider reading the documents would have supposed I was a candidate for admission into the heavenly kingdom, so unreserved were the commendations."

"Not long ago I met ex-President Taft while he was in this city. He has a remarkable memory. Shaking me by the hand, he said: 'When I finished reading the voluminous reports in your favor some years ago I pictured to myself a man possessed with angels' wings and fit to be the American ambassador extraordinary to the heavenly kingdom. I supposed you were dead at the time; for the report read like an epitaph on a tombstone, so remarkable were the testimonials of your friends in your behalf.'—San Francisco Chronicle."

Question of Dress.

Few of the picturesque tribal costumes that depart in main essentials from the dress found everywhere by western civilization have succeeded in maintaining their traditional characteristics. The Roumanian people are among those whom the war has caused to forsake a distinctive national male attire. This in its main lines, recalled the costume of the Roumanian legionaries, which was adopted by the nation when Roumania formed the Roman Province of Dacia. It consisted of a short white tunic, baggy trousers of white wool, and a curiously embroidered coat. Many of these garments were carried away as loot by invaders during the war, and the Roumanian people, sent in from France, which are not more conventional in design, are expected to drive the national costume into disuse. Heavy demands, however, will doubtless be made upon it in the field of masquerade and musical comedy.

A gas container 70 feet in diameter and 75 feet high, weighing 200 tons, was moved three miles recently at Portland, Ore. First it was raised 15 feet and loaded on rollers. Then it was moved four blocks through the city streets and lowered 25 feet to a dock whence it was moved upon a pair of barges. The barges were towed three miles to a shipbuilding plant, where the tank was unloaded and raised 26 feet, moved across a 2,000 feet, crossing a railroad track, and placed on its new foundation. It took 71 days to complete the work.

Refuses to Leave Prison.

A man sentenced to Sing Sing prison in May, 1917, has already overstay his sentence more than seven months, and refuses to go home. He is working with a construction gang building the new prison, and the warden says he does as much work as any four men. The pay allowed prisoners by the state amounts to 1 1/2 cents a day. This man was greatly relieved when he was told that the prison authorities would not shut off his pay to make him apply for parole, which he has so far steadfastly refused to do.

Firing While Submerged.

Just as the war ended, the British navy had ready to put into commission large submarines which, among other novel features, could fire submerged. They are armed with a 12-inch gun mounted so that it could fire with only its muzzle out of water. The submarine had to rise to the surface to reload, but the whole process could be executed in only half a minute.

Priceless Persian Rugs.

It is a well known fact that an Oriental rug is a treasure. When his rug with even the soft sandals that he wears. When his foot is set upon his rug it is entirely bare, and this is the reason why Oriental rugs woven hundreds of years ago are still perfectly preserved. The Persian rugs of Persia have a value that is almost incalculable. They are not only beautiful, but they are also very durable. They are made of the finest materials and are woven in a way that makes them almost indestructible. They are also very valuable as a work of art. They are often found in the homes of the rich and the noble, and they are often used as a decoration in the homes of the poor.

African Pigmies.

The historian Herodotus, 2500 years ago, described the African pigmies which he located near the source of the Nile. Herodotus, for once, told the truth, for it is in that region that modern explorers have found them. Stanley described them as having huge stomachs and short legs, and as "leaping about like grasshoppers." One specimen he saw was a full-grown young woman, three inches short of three feet in height, but "perfectly formed and of a pleasing slenderness of body, with absurdly large eyes."

Use of Drinking Water.

Drink whatever water you desire with meals, but do not take ice water, and do not use water merely to wash food down your throat. Water aids digestion by helping to liquefy the food and by bringing the gastric juices into closer contact with the food particles. Water does not affect the enzymes and weaken them by dilution as some people maintain, because the power of the enzymes depends not on the percentage which is present, but upon their total amount and chemical composition.

First Maine Post Office.

In 1773 the first post offices in Maine were established at Kennebunk, Calais and Bath. The mails were carried by carriers on foot or on horseback and the average week's mail did not amount to five letters at each office. The rates were high, 64¢, 125¢, 185¢, 25¢ and 375¢ cents, according to the distance the letter had to be carried, and double the rate when the letter was on more than one sheet of paper.

Production of Scent.

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in particles in the air, as in the case of light and sound. The damper a thing is the more powerful the odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. It is the vapor of a liquid that smells, and not the liquid in the mass itself.

One Common Tongue.

"There was one word," wrote an American Red Cross nurse serving in a French army hospital, "that we quickly learned in five languages. It was the word that came most often to the lips of sick or wounded soldiers when suffering or delirious, uttering utterance from them. It is: Mother, mother, mother, mother and mother."

Natural Cloth.

In tropical South America the inner bark of a species of tree yields an excellent cloth, the fibers of which are interwoven much as the fabric came from a loom. All that is necessary is to wash and beat out the cellular stuff from the interstices and, when dried, it is light, flexible and altogether suitable for making up into garments.

The Australian daily, weekly and monthly publications are considered great institutions, especially the dailies, and the consumption of newspaper alone is large, probably running into 4,000 tons monthly for the country.

Sweet Potato.

It is not known certainly who introduced the sweet potato plant or when. Some authorities believe it to be of East Indian origin, but others more likely hold that it was a native of tropical America.

DOES AMERICANISM LIVE?

Taking as his text the strikes, lynchings, bomb-throwing and lawlessness prevailing throughout the land, Senator Borah, in a notable address to the body of which he is a member, raised the question whether Americanism is longer the America we have known and loved. He declared that the present state of affairs indicates "a lack of appreciation of the American system and a breakdown of the faith that no evil is too great to yield to the orderly processes of law." He agreed with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler in saying that "America's existence is challenged today."

In fixing the responsibility Senator Borah said: "There are those in responsible places who are seeking to undermine and destroy traditions and principles connected with the American system quite as essential to our perpetuity as the constitution and the policies which it maintains." He quoted Judge Gary as saying that "the policies and principles of Washington and Jefferson are out of fashion and no longer a guide to government." He quoted President Lowell of Harvard, in the Lodge-Lowell debate saying: "One never gets very far in this argument without hearing from Washington's Farewell Address. Now, don't laugh at the Farewell Address. That Farewell Address was a famous document in its day—so are the Ten Commandments." He quoted President Wilson as saying that "the League of Nations is greater than the American Senate, greater than the American republic." He quoted Secretary of the Navy Daniels as saying: "The constitution of the League of Nations will be remembered long after the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution are forgotten."

The serious question is, Does Americanism still live? It should occur to the gentlemen who are seeking to place an international system and an international "covenant" above the Declaration of Independence and the federal constitution that the sayings of the fathers of the republic have lived not because they uttered them, but because these utterances reflected eternal truths. These truths have endured through the years because truth endures and survives all assaults.

It is as important for the United States now to observe and profit by the wisdom of those who breathed the spirit of Americanism as it was in the days when the words were uttered. It is more than ever important for the world that the warnings of Washington and Jefferson and their associates should be heeded, for unless the United States is independent it cannot serve the world and render assistance to nations and peoples suffering from oppression and wrong.

Until pure and undefiled Americanism is restored neither America nor the world will be safe. In the language of Senator Borah: "There is just one remedy for this entire situation and that is the complete renaissance of true Americanism and vigorous, manly, uncompromising national sentiment, a rebaptism of the old time national spirit. We must resort to the fountain which has fed us heretofore."—New York Herald.

A PLEA FOR THE JEW

Charlevo, and every other community throughout the United States, is this week contributing to the Jewish Relief fund, now being raised in the United States. The amount of this fund is placed at $35,000,000, every penny of which will be required to take care of the physical wants of six millions of starving Jews in Europe for the coming year.

These people are located in Galicia, Lithuania and portions of Russia, as well as in Palestine. It is no fault of theirs that they are at this time dependent upon the charity of the world for their existence; they are the victims of a great war, whose substance was destroyed by invading armies, the members of which had no sympathy for these helpless people, whom they treated most shamefully.

...most brutally. The Russian and the German alike destroyed their homes, and their substance was left nothing but a mass of ruins. The Jews of America have demonstrated their loyalty to the United States during the recent war. They not only supported most liberally Liberty Bond issues, but contributed generously to every variety of war work, while in thousands their people entered the army of the United States and proved their devotion by hard and arduous service in France.

They ask but aittance from each one, an amount all are able to give, and the committees now soliciting in Charlevo and vicinity should meet with the most generous reception. Let us therefore open our hearts and our pocketbooks to this call for mercy, and for help, realizing that they who give quickly give twice.

FLOGGING AN AMERICAN

An American soldier flogged by Cossacks in Siberia and an American rescuing party threatened by Japanese soldiers are incidents in our far eastern campaign which inevitably will arouse acrid comment, says the Chicago Tribune.

The amenities of the nation may be preserved if the Cossack commandant apologizes, but this will not prove to the American people that our soldiers have any business in Siberia, where there are no interests of ours and no declaration of war.

It would seem sensible that if we have any purpose in Siberia we should send enough troops to accomplish it; that, or bring home the relatively unimportant forces we have there if we are unable to decide upon the nature of our mission. No fixed national purpose has been announced, no declaration of war, and the people are soured on the whole business.

We have no more business in Siberia, at least so far as is valid in the mind of the average American citizen, than we had in Archangel. Yet far from withdrawing our soldiers, we replace them with fresh ones. Far from quitting the unwholesome sub-mandate, we leave American oys to be flogged by Cossack whips and to be threatened by Japanese troops. Apparently we are not accomplishing anything desirable, but instead are inviting a brave array of international complications.

MANY ARE NEEDED FOR CENSUS WORK

The Director of the Census, Hon. Sam L. Rodgers, announces that 80,000 enumerators will be needed to take the next census. The work begins on January 2, and will last about two weeks in cities, and a month or more in rural districts. Rates of pay will vary depending upon the locality and character of the district to be canvassed. The average pay per enumerator at the census of 1910 was about $70. At this coming census it will probably be not less than $100.

R. L. Hildebrand, Supervisor of the Census, for the 22nd District of Pennsylvania, which includes the counties of Beaver, Washington and Lawrence, states that he will need about 250 enumerators for this district. Applications or requests for applications forms should be sent to him on or before October 15. As a test of their fitness for the work applicants will be required to fill out a sample schedule and will be duly notified of the time and place for this test. So far as practicable the place selected will be one which is easily accessible.

Active, intelligent and reliable men and women, not less than 18 years of age, are needed for this task.

WOMEN ARE CARELESS

This has been proved over and over again during the war. They overestimate their physical strength and overtax it. Their ambition is commendable, but does not compensate for the hours and days of misery which they suffer from symptoms caused by female ills brought on by overwork. Women who are weak, nervous, despondent, with headaches, backache and dragging-down pains should remember there is one tried and true remedy, that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for such ailments.

DENY LIABILITY FOR FULL AMOUNT

In an effort of defense filed in the case of Otto Boehme against the General Accident, Fire and Life Assurance Corporation, Limited, the defendant corporation claims that it is liable for only one-fifth of the amount for which the policy in question was issued, because of the manner of the death of Otto Boehme to whom the policy was issued. This is a suit to recover $600, the principal sum named in a life insurance policy issued by the defendant company to Otto Boehme, who was murdered in his place of business on the night of February 21, 1918.

The beneficiary named in the policy is the plaintiff in this case. She brought suit for the full amount of the policy, $600, but the defendant company claims that under a clause of the general agreement it is liable for only one-fifth when the assured meets death in the manner in which Boehme was killed.

"Nuxated Iron Put Added Power Behind My Punch" Says Jack Dempsey—Tiger Of The Ring

Heavyweight Champion of the World Tells A Secret of the Training Which Helped Get Him Into Such Superb Condition That He Was Able to Whip the Mighty Jess Willard and Prove Himself

Jack Kearns, Manager for Dempsey, Jimmy DeForest, Chief Trainer, and Others Give Opinions—How Nuxated Iron Helps Strengthen the Nerves, Restore Wasted Tissue and Build RED BLOOD, STRENGTH and ENDURANCE.

Since his overwhelming victory at Toledo, where he wrested the World's Championship title from the Go-It-like Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey, the modern-day and Miraculous Man of the Fistic World—Jack Kearns, his manager, and Jimmy DeForest, his chief trainer, have been besieged with inquiries as to the methods employed in rounding him into such superb condition. That Jack Dempsey used Nuxated Iron as a part of the training which produced such marvelous physical development as to make him a veritable human dynamo, should prove conclusively the paramount value he attached to this master strength and blood builder, and he explains below why he now recommends it to others.

Just as when a man's life is at stake, physicians seek only the tried and proven treatment, so when the World's Championship hung in the balance, Dempsey's trainers did not stop to experiment with metallic iron preparations—Nux and Iron—or other products of questionable value, but they insisted upon having only genuine Nuxated Iron, which they felt could be absolutely relied upon to help build red blood, power and stamina.

In connection with this feature of his training regarding which Dempsey himself makes a statement below, Jimmy DeForest, the Champion's Chief Trainer, is quoted as saying: "For seven weeks previous to July 4th I was in sole charge of the training and preparing of Jack Dempsey for his fight with Jess Willard. During the training period of Dempsey was regularly given by me Nuxated Iron and I believe it contributed to his success."

The importance that the Champion himself placed in winning for him the highest laurels known in the athletic world is clearly shown in the following statement made by Jack Dempsey at his training quarters in Toledo, the scene of the big battle, when he said: "After commencing the use of Nuxated Iron during my training for the big fight with Jess Willard, I soon noticed that I could stand harder strains with less fatigue than before, and I realized that I had found a tonic and blood builder which played an important part in getting me into fine condition. Formerly I had relied solely upon strength-building foods and outdoor exercise to keep my blood rich in red corpuscles, but with the World's Championship at stake, I felt that I should do nothing undone that might help me to win. I was advised of the great value of Nuxated Iron for building up the blood, strengthening the nerves and aiding in keeping the body fit, and I am firmly convinced that its use has helped to wonderfully increase my stamina and endurance. Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to accomplish what I did at Toledo. From the results in my own case, where the possession of super endurance is necessary, I feel that I am in a position to strongly recommend Nuxated Iron to every man and woman who wants to build greater strength, energy and power."

In connection with the foregoing statement made by Jack Dempsey, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said: "In my opinion whoever made the suggestion that Nuxated Iron should play a part in getting Dempsey into condition is to be commended for his foresight. No man without plenty of rich, red blood filled with health-giving and strength-building iron could withstand the terrific onslaughts of a giant like Willard. It should occur to every thinking person that if a man as physically fit as Dempsey should consider it advisable to take Nuxated Iron, how much more important it is for the average man or woman to see that there is no lack of iron in the blood. To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron."

UNABLE TO SLEEP FOR THIRTY DAYS

People are very apt to wake up to the importance of taking care of their stomach. Every day testimonials are received speaking of the very definite benefits derived from the use of Plant Juice. Following is the voluntary statement of Mrs. Mary Rice, who resides at No. 512 General Robinson street, North Side, and who has lived in the same house for 15 years and was born and reared on the North Side. She stated:

"I had stomach trouble for some time was very nervous and restless and could not sleep at nights. At one time I had not slept for a month. I became very thin and in fact was a physical wreck. I had tried various remedies, but nothing seemed to help me. I heard of Plant Juice and the wonderful results which were being obtained from its use, and decided to try same. I have used it more or less for the last year and it has cured me. I have regained my former weight, sleep well at nights, my nerves are in good condition and my stomach is all right. I can now digest my food and do not experience that distressed and bloated feeling that I did prior to taking your remedy. I would strongly advise all stomach sufferers to take Plant Juice."

CAMPBELL CONCERNED IN ANOTHER ROBBERY

Burglary of the Thomas Stebidon home at Cokeburg last March, in which cash, jewelry and clothing valued at $177 was secured, has been cleared up by the arrest of Peter J. Flood. Flood was assisted by Emanuel Campbell, who is now in the county jail awaiting trial in connection with the murder of Otto Boehme.

Flood was arrested in Charleroi Sunday night at 9:30 o'clock by Chief Albright and Officer Murphy and turned over to the county authorities Monday afternoon. The arrest was made very quietly after an investigation in which it was ascertained that Flood was the man wanted.

Members of the Stebidon family claimed they were chloroformed by the burglars who entered their home. They described by saying they were put to sleep.

County Detective Marker has been at work on the case for weeks, but it was not until a few days ago that Flood was rounded up. Campbell has been in jail for several weeks. Flood was taken before Justice of the Peace Carmichael of Washington and the charge placed against him, to which he confessed his guilt.

In a collection of red amber presented to the British museum, Prof. T. D. Cockerell has recognized an astonishing variety of insect forms, and has described not less than 31 new species, of which five are types of new genera. Most of them were found in a single block little larger than a man's fist, which was cut into half-inch slices, in every one of which the insects are densely crowded. The amber is from Miocene clay beds of Burma, though perhaps washed from still older deposits, and nearly every large order of insects is represented, the family of ants being a notable exception.

Notice of Dissolution.

Notice is hereby given that the Charleroi Land Company has filed to No. 111 November Term, 1919 A. D., Common Pleas Court of Washington County, Penna., its application or petition for a Decree of Dissolution of said Corporation, and that the Court has fixed Monday, October 13, 1919, at 10 o'clock A. M. as the time and place for the hearing on said petition for dissolution, when and where all persons interested may attend and show cause, if any they may have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

DESERVE MORE THAN PRAISE

Men of the Type of Private Oscar Zwa'd Surely Entitled to the Country's Best.

Col. A. C. Read, Inspector general, asked General Leggett to write letters of highest praise for the brave conduct of Private Oscar Zwa'd, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

By rushing fearlessly into a burning freight car loaded with live shells, and extinguishing the fire at great risk, he saved scores of lives and possibly nearly a million dollars' worth of munition stores for Uncle Sam at the Mulheim munition store yard, near Coblenz.

If the fire had not been promptly subdued it would have resulted in blowing up a whole trainload of shells, to which the burning car was attached, together with, possibly, many nearby buildings filled with high explosives, stored there for emergencies.

This is the type of man returning to us now from abroad. Fearless, courageous, and ready to do the right thing at the right moment. All may not have received the D. S. C., but each one of them is a valuable addition to any factory, office or workshop.

They return to us now in great numbers. About 300,000 are discharged from the service every month. Col. Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, in charge of the re-employment work of the war department, is leaving no stone unturned to find employment for each one of them.

COMMENTARY ON WHITE RULE

Indians Have Flourished Only Where the White Man Did Not Want Their Lands.

In only two parts of all-America are the Indians as numerous today as when the white men came—in Canada, north of the Saskatchewan, where the population is actually increasing; south of the Rio Grande, in Yaqui land, where whip and sword and rifle have failed to conquer what should have been pacified. In northern Canada the fur-bunting Indians have prospered in peace for two reasons. The white men did not take their lands. They did not want them. The land of the Far North was only good for furs; and so the second reason, or from purely selfish motive to increase the output of furs, the Indians have been treated with absolute justice if with absolute despotism. The safety of the lone trader's life depended on absolute justice; and, oddly enough, the only Mexican who has ever succeeded in controlling the Yaquis has controlled them in the same way, by leaving to them their lands and by absolute, if at times despot, justice.—Detroit Free-Press.

Another Use for Bunny.

That Belgian hares have other resourceful veins than meat producing remained to be established by an amateur English woman fancier. The climax of her undertaking was when she appeared at a large pet stock show in England with a jaunty, becoming hat, a coat, and a set of furs made from rabbit skins, which she admitted publicly were nothing more than some of her pet rabbits.

In England, $3,000 rabbit skins a year are being made over into ermine, Arctic fox and black lynx furs to fool milady. Before the war such rabbits were produced by scores of millions in Europe, and vast quantities of the skins imported to the United States to masquerade as real fur. American breeders are raising the same kind of rabbits that produce the best money for the fur shops, and it is certain that as valuable rabbit fur can be produced in America as elsewhere. It is a business that can be conducted every month in the year, and a hobby that will pay its way is one to be valued.—Hunter-Trapper.

A small settlement of disabled British officers has been started at Gonthland, on the Yorkshire moors, a clergyman and his wife having given a group of nine cottages, with a garden and orchard, for the experiment. Here a naval officer and his niece have started weaving, while a blind officer, trained at St. Dunstan's, has a poultry farm. Others are considering the possibilities of beekeeping, fruit growing and basket making. It is believed that the same qualities of leadership displayed on the battlefield can be utilized by disabled officers in connection with rural reconstruction in England.

What to Do With Money.

If any man in this town really has more money than he knows what to do with we suggest that he take a trip through the hospitals of the city and discover for himself the crowded conditions that exist. Personally we know of one hospital that needs a new wing that a few rich men could build very quickly if they'd get together. Anyhow what we started to say is that there's so much needed to be done that no man ought to have more money than he knows what to do with for the want of a worthy cause to spend it in.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Propaganda.

A doughboy who had just returned from Coblenz was talking to a very estimable elderly woman—a straight-faced church member. "How did you like it up in Germany," she asked. "Oh, we got along very well with the Germans," and with a big, broad smile, he added, "and had all the good German beer that we wanted to drink." "More German propaganda," exclaimed the elderly woman.

APPLIED THE WRONG COLOR

Unfortunate Miscalculation of Indianapolis' Young Lady Who Was Trying to Look Her Best.

One particularly hot day a pretty North side girl, who, crown and all, is quite fittingly named, met a young man who was looking for a picture in Monument circle. At the suggestion they decided to take a picture show and, incidentally, have a visit.

Always solicitous about her appearance, this afternoon she was even more so and fearful that her face might, perhaps, be shiny. Wherefore on emerging from the theatre, she looked a little behind her escort and, hastily opening her dressing box, gave her nose a surreptitious dab.

Fortified with the thought that even if it was a hot day she was looking pretty fair, she couldn't account for the very peculiar expression that she saw on his face as he turned to speak to her in the lobby. After a minute of strained silence, he said: "What have you been doing to your face, Elise? Trying to match your nose to your hair? It's a poor job if you did. Let's beat it back and you take a look in a mirror."

"What time you did," she said, when she told the story on herself. Said she: "I knew he'd tell it, so I thought I might as well tell it first. Of course you know I hadn't powdered my nose. I'd rouged it—and abundantly, too. And it didn't come off as easily as it went on, either."—Indianapolis News.

PESTILENCE CAUSED BY WAR

Generally Understood That the Influenza Epidemic Was a Direct Result of Great Conflict.

Sufficient time has not yet elapsed to determine the indirect effects of the recent eruption of Mount Kiloet in Java which wiped out over a score of villages and killed thousands of the natives, but recollections of Krakatoa's volcanic outburst in 1883 which within six weeks sprinkled its fine lava dust over the whole world, has given an interesting suggestion to certain members of the medical profession. During the closing year of the war an influenza epidemic raged in many parts of the world. The manner of its outbreak in different countries indicated that the germs of the disease had been conveyed by the currents in the air. The theory, therefore, has been broached that the poison gases with which many sectors of the fighting area were drenched were carried by the wind in every direction, causing the influenza outbreak in Spain, Germany, England, France, South America, Australia, Africa, Asia, as well as in the United States and some of the Central American countries. That the influenza is a corollary of the war is undoubted. Any similar gigantic conflict, is argued, would be attended with a similar widespread pestilence—another reason why every effort should be made to avert wars in the future.—Leslie's.

Persian Envoy at Mount Vernon.

Shortly after Sir Julian Pauncefote's coming to Washington a complimentary trip to Mount Vernon was arranged for him on the Mayflower, which was the president's yacht. Among the invited guests was the Persian minister. It was quite a social and impressive event. The spectacle of the minister of Great Britain paying respect to the tomb and memory of Washington did not pass without comment upon its historical significance. During the visit the Persian envoy was observed to be standing in profound reverie in front of the iron gate of the tomb. He remained in silence for some minutes, and then, doubtless full of obvious contrasts that might occur to an oriental mind from the land of shahs and of ivory palaces and gorgeous tombs, he turned to a friend and said: "How great a man and how little a cemetery!"—Lieutenant Colonel E. W. Halford in Leslie's Weekly.

According to the American Journal for Cripples, published in this city, Germany issued a peremptory order in January requiring the employment of her disabled soldiers. All public and private industries, offices and administrations are directed to employ at least one disabled soldier for every 100 persons on the working staff, making no distinction of sex, it is stated. In agricultural work the proportion must be one disabled soldier to every 50 employees, and in all cases the disabled cannot be discharged except with the consent of the workmen's committee and after receiving 14 days' notice. Private employers who disregard the order are liable to a fine of not more than 10,000 marks.

American Buys Old Chapel.

The Havas agency states that an American has bought the Belle Croix chapel, on the heights of Villeneuve-Avignon, France, which was built by the Chartreuse monks in the fourteenth century.

The chapel, which contained some fine carving, has been carefully torn down and packed for transit to an unknown destination.

HIGH SCHOOL ISSUE AT COMING ELECTION

The proposal to remove the West Bethlehem township high school from Scenery Hill to Marianna has developed into a factional fight, which will be decided at the polls in November.

It will be remembered that the school board of the township at a meeting held during the summer decided to move the high school from Scenery Hill to the Marianna section. The proposition was then taken into court and an injunction sought to prevent the board from carrying out its avowed intention. The court ruled against a preliminary injunction, but the main issue is yet to be decided by the court.

At the recent primaries the Scenery Hill faction won out in the nomination of candidates on both Republican and Democratic nominees. It is understood that two of these candidates will withdraw, so that there will be no danger of the Scenery Hill faction losing out at the election. Two school directors are to be elected and the Scenery Hill adherents must secure both in order to control the board.

It is announced that the American Legion will keep out of politics; but that isn't the point, will politics keep out of the American Legion?

The curved fleshy nose is a mark of domination and cruelty. Catherine de Medici and Elizabeth of England had noses of this kind. The curved thin nose, on the contrary, is a mark of a brilliant mind, but vain and disposed to be ironical; it is the nose of a dreamer, a poet, or a critic. If the line of the nose is re-entrant—that is, if the nose is turned up—it denotes that its owner has a weak mind, sometimes coarse, and generally playful, pleasant and frolicsome. A pale nose denotes egotism, envy, heartlessness; the thick, passionate, sanguine man has a strongly-colored nose of uniform shade.

Industrial Life in America Should In-

Here we have, probably, the most striking social contrasts the world has ever seen; racial mixtures of bewildering complexity, the whole hung against impressive backgrounds and lighted from a thousand angles. Pennsylvania is only slightly "spotted" on the literary map, and yet between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh nearly every possible phase and condition of life is represented.

Great passions are at work in the fiery aisles of the steel mills that would have kindled Dostoyevsky's imagination. A pillar of cloud by day and of fire by night marks a limitless field for the earnest fictionist. A Balzac would find a thousand subjects awaiting him in the streets of Wilkes-Barre!—Meredith Nicholson in the Atlantic Monthly.

Minute bendings of a steel bar three feet long and three and one-half feet in diameter are accurately measured by a curious but very sensitive device of the United States bureau of standards. The bar, supported at each end, has a small mirror fixed in the center, and above this is a frame holding another mirror partially silvered. As the light of a sodium burner is reflected in each mirror the lower mirror shows a series of black and yellow concentric rings. A very small weight, even that of a pin, deflects the bar and causes the circles to expand outward. Each circle indicates a movement of one hundred-thousandth of an inch. The pressure of a finger, forming five or more new circles, showing a bending of one twenty-thousandth of an inch.

Wouldn't it jar you if a man bowed a hundred from you to get a marriage license and buy some furniture for a hat and then went and spent the hundred on his wedding with another girl? It did a New York girl, and her intended husband, who has a monicker as bad as a Russian city, and who came near missing his marriage to her rival. She was not judged. But once behind the curtain the husband-to-be gave vent to a will-throbburst of passion. His plighted reached the second girl of his choice and she made a house-to-house canvass until she had raised the cash to liberate him. And then they were married. What's a little thing like jail when it stands between determined matrimonialists and her is ended.

The progress of humanity depends on two movements which must go on side by side.

One is the impulse toward change the other is the steady drag toward stability.
To prevent a given social state from petrification there must be constant revolts, a continuous series of fresh and lively efforts to strike out new paths.

But in order that a social state may exist at all, the newer impulses must be harmonized with the older structure.

Order is as necessary for the world as progress.

In almost every accident someone is to blame. Let us then learn from our own accidents just where we might have done better. Let us acknowledge that the fault was ours, and set about trying to make good in the future. There is no use in blaming luck or misfortune for our faults of commission or omission, and instead of crying over the milk which was spilled, let us learn wherein we were wrong, so that when next we carry milk it will not be spilled.

One of the mysticisms still unsolved is that of the sense by which the lower animals become aware of the approach of earthquakes. Birds and rats become alarmed and try to escape. Super-sensitiveness to faint shocks scarcely gives satisfactory explanation. For modern seismographs are very sensitive.

If some men were to quote the well-known psalm they would have to say, "I was glad to make excuses when they said to us, 'let us go into the house of the Lord.'" The 'they' referring probably to the women of the house, or the church-going neighbors.—Exchange.

The incoming and the outgoing of the tides is caused by the gravitational influence of the moon. The moon, so to speak, draws or lifts the water from the depression the same principle that a pump lifts water. And as with a pump, the water rushes in to fill the space left; so the shallow water near shore rushes out to fill the extra space caused by rising of the water, on the principle that water seeks its own level.

The Vatican palace at Rome is the largest building in the world, covering 132 acres, but with its additions and enlargements it was several centuries in building. The most extensive building in the world constructed at one time is the Pennsylvania station in New York city, which occupies eight acres of ground and has extended walls measuring about one-half a mile. The capitol at Washington covers 153,112 square feet, or nearly four acres.

When Washington formed his cabinet it had but four members, the interior department being unknown, the war and navy departments being under one head, and the postmaster general, being subordinate to the treasury. Nevertheless of these four positions, he gave two to Virginians, Secretary of State Jefferson and Attorney General Randolph: one to New York, Alexander Hamilton, and one to Massachusetts, Henry Knox.

Today, when Jew and Non-Jew have united in a common brotherhood, when in America, in England, in France, in Russia, in Poland, the son of Abraham and the follower of Christ bound in common memories of heroic sacrifices on the battlefield that Civilization and Humanity might be preserved, have struck the hand of friendship — today, this little child and all of her race are facing absolute extermination. Not a human persecutor now—Famine and Pestilence and Cold have united against these helpless ones. They have but one salvation.

It's Little Wonder That Charleroi People Look to This Store Where Quality Standards Are Kept So High.

Every Woman Needs A Woolen Dress In Autumn

And here are plenty to choose from at prices that are decidedly moderate.

Business women, especially, should see these attractive serge, tricotine and other wool dresses if they intend to replenish their wardrobe for the colder months. The moderateness of their price, considering workmanship and qualities, will amaze all who visit these displays. Early buying and very satisfactory price concessions from the manufacturers enables us to mark many of them at surprisingly low prices in spite of the rising costs. As their reasonableness must necessarily mean an early closing out of this entire stock, those who do not wish to miss this interesting offer, must shop early.

NO REPORTS ON JEWISH CAMPAIGN

No reports had been received either by John D. Berryman, the district chairman, nor by Kerfoot W. Daly, chairman of the local executive committee up until this morning as to what progress the Jewish Relief campaign is making. Neither had any reports been handed in to headquarters at the municipal building, so that it is impossible to say just what is being done in the district and the borough toward raising the quota assigned to Charleroi and surrounding country.

Both Mr. Berryman and Mr. Daly are very anxious not only for the various committees to be actively at work, but likewise they desire a report on what progress is being made so that they can keep tab on the campaign. Committees were to have started out yesterday morning soliciting for the fund, but just what amount was raised either in pledges or cash was not reported to headquarters. It is hoped by members of the local executive committee that greater interest be taken in the campaign and that the quota assigned be raised on or before Monday evening next.

FORCE 186 RADICALS TO KISS THE FLAG

F. Warren Hill, a former member of the United States Marines, and now serving as a police officer in Weirton, W. Va., was mainly responsible for the deportation of one hundred and eighty-six Finns from that town on Tuesday, all of whom are said to have been members of the I. W. W. and members of a "Red" organization which so sought to terrorize the people of that community.

These men had been quite active during the strike now prevailing and had decorated the pavements and other places with the statement, "The I. W. W. will get you." The local authorities had endeavored to locate the meeting place of the Reds, but were unable to do so until a few days, when it was discovered that an abandoned barn was the headquarters of the organization. The authorities then decided to break up the rendezvous, and accordingly 50 deputies in charge of Sergeant Hill surrounded the place on Tuesday and arrested a large number of the members. In addition they captured a lot of literature of the extreme Red character, as well as the roll book of the membership.

Then it was decided to deport the entire band and every man whose name appeared on the list was arrested and brought to the public square. There they were compelled to kiss the American flag, after which they were told to leave town. All but six of them departed, the half dozen being held by the local authorities.

It is said that about 80 of these men were residents of Weirton and former employees of the mills there, while the others came mainly from Woodlawn. Among them was one man whom it is alleged had been tarred and feathered for not buying any Liberty Bonds.

Great excitement prevailed while the Reds were being rounded up, and it is said the government authorities will now take a hand because of the use made of the mails in sending out anachistic literature.
